CURRENT ACADEMIC APPOINTMENT

Assistant Professor 2014-present
Human Development and Family Studies Department
College of Human Sciences
Auburn University, Auburn, AL

PAST ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

Post-Doctoral Research Associate at the University of Minnesota 2012-2014
Department of Psychology, Minnesota Center for Twin and Family Research,
Minneapolis, MN
Adjunct Professor at St. Catherine University 2013-2014
Department of Psychology, St. Paul, MN

EDUCATION

Ph.D., University of Minnesota – Minneapolis – St. Paul, MN 2009-2012
Major field: Family Social Science
Supporting program: Psychology
M.A., University of Minnesota – Minneapolis – St. Paul, MN 2007-2009
Major field: Family Social Science
B.A., University of Minnesota – Minneapolis – St. Paul, MN 2002-2006
Summa cum laude
Major field: Psychology

RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Adolescent and young adult development
- Adoptive identity and adjustment
- Alcohol and substance use
- Externalizing behaviors and disorders
- Gene-environment interplay
- Individual difference-social context interplay
- Parenting, peer, sibling, romantic relationships
- Personality, individual differences, and behavior genetics
- Risk, protective, and resilience factors

TEACHING INTERESTS

- Child, adolescent, adult development
- Developmental psychology and psychopathology
- Research methods and basic statistics
- Teaching in higher education

RESEARCH SUPPORT & GRANTSMANSHIP

Current Funding

NIH-NIAAA R03 AA024282

08/01/16-08/01/18

National Institutes on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism

R03 (small grant) mechanism ($100,000 direct costs)

PI: Samek, D.R.

Title: Persistence of Alcohol Use Disorders: Person and Environment Effects

Description: A secondary data analysis of the Minnesota Twin Family Study ( $N = 2,769$ ) is proposed to evaluate for complex processes of individual-social context interplay as it relates to substance use disorder onset and course from adolescence through late young adulthood. A 6-wave data set will be used, with comprehensive assessments of personality, substance use, and social context at each time point.

Auburn University, Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station

10/01/15-10/01/2017

Young Investigator Research Support Award ($50,000 direct costs).

PI: Samek, D.R.

Title: College Experiences Leading to Alcohol and Cannabis Use Disorder Onset, Persistence, and Desistence: A Longitudinal Study

Description: The purpose of this two-wave longitudinal study is to evaluate complex processes of individual-social context interplay as it relates to substance use disorder onset and course over the first two years of college. A secondary purpose is to identify whether findings vary for those from rural versus urban regions of origin.

Completed

NIH-NIMH T32 MH017069

2012-2013

University of Minnesota, Department of Psychology

National Institute of Mental Health Post-Doctoral Fellowship (~$45,000 total costs)

PI: Dr. Monica Luciana

Title: Neurobehavioral Aspects of Personality and Psychopathology

Role: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

University of Minnesota, Department of Family Social Science

2011-2012

Mary Ellen McFarland Dissertation Award Recipient (tuition + stipend)

University of Minnesota, Department of Family Social Science

2009-2011

Waller Fellowships ($5,000 each year; $15,000 total)

Awarded for aggressive summer research.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Assistant Professor

Department of Human Development and Family Studies, Auburn University, Auburn, AL

DIANA R. SAMEK, 8 of 12

Last updated July, 2017

2014-present

Graduate Seminars taught:

- HDFS 7010: Child and Adolescent Development in Context (3 credits)
  - Spring, 2017 (5 students), average teaching evaluation score: 5.8 (scale 1 to 6, where 1 indicates low quality teaching and 6 indicates high quality teaching)
  - Spring, 2016 (4 students), average teaching evaluation score: 5.6 (scale 1 to 6, where 1 indicates low quality teaching and 6 indicates high quality teaching)
    - Developed syllabus and course materials on the topic of child and adolescent development, facilitated graduate student learning (active reading, discussion, critical review of theory, methods, key research findings)
    - Students evaluated on weekly critical essays, a semester-long literature review paper (broken into multiple assignments with lots of scaffolding and in class paper workshops), and weekly participation/discussion

- HDFS 7990: Research and Thesis or Directed Studies
  - Summer, 2017 through Fall, 2017 (1 student, 6 credits: Lucy Riley)
    - Mentored graduate student Master's thesis proposal and writing
    - Students prepare agenda for weekly meetings breaking down larger goals (e.g., passing Master's thesis, supervising Undergraduate Research Assistants) to yearly, monthly, weekly, and sometimes daily goals, then report on those goals at our weekly or bi-monthly meetings

- HDFS 8990: Research and Dissertation
  - Summer, 2015 through Summer, 2017 (1 student, 10 credits: Rebecca Goodman)
    - Mentored graduate student qualifying exam and dissertation writing
    - Students prepare agenda for weekly meetings breaking down larger goals (e.g., passing qualifying exam) to yearly, monthly, weekly, and sometimes daily goals, then report on those goals at our weekly or bi-monthly meetings

Undergraduate courses taught:

- HDFS 3030: Adolescent Development in the Family (3 credits)
  - Fall, 2016 (48 students), average teaching evaluation score: 5.4 (scale 1 to 6, where 1 indicates low quality teaching and 6 indicates high quality teaching)
  - Fall, 2015 (48 students), average teaching evaluation score: 5.8 (scale 1 to 6, where 1 indicates low quality teaching and 6 indicates high quality teaching)
  - Spring, 2015 (41 students), average teaching evaluation score: 5.1 (scale 1 to 6, where 1 indicates low quality teaching and 6 indicates high quality teaching)
    - Developed syllabus and course materials on the topic of adolescent and young adult development, facilitated class instruction (e.g., lecture, active learning assignments, discussions)
    - Students evaluated on unit quizzes (multiple choice, short answer essay), in-class assignments, reading assignments, and a final literature review paper (broken into multiple assignments with lots of scaffolding and in class paper workshops)

- HDFS 4980: Undergraduate Research and Study

- Spring, 2017 (3 students: MC Cunningham, Kathleen Gorman, & Laura Parker)
- Fall, 2016 (3 students: MC Cunningham, Miranda Pecot, & Savannah Grimes )
- Spring, 2016 (2 students: Bri DiPalmo & Katie Schloder)
- Fall, 2015 (2 students: Lucy Riley & Sharonda Watson)
  - Supervised students in my research lab (College Experiences Study)
  - Students evaluated on weekly task completion (participation location, recruitment, compensation reports), attendance to lab meetings, journal entries, and summarizing and leading research article discussions

Adjunct Professor

Department of Psychology, St. Catherine University, St. Paul, MN
2013-2014

Undergraduate courses taught:

- PSYC 2025: Lifespan Developmental Psychology (4 credits)
  - Fall 2013 (28 students), average teaching evaluation score: 4.5 (scale 1 to 5, where 1 indicates low quality teaching and 5 indicates high quality teaching)
    - Developed syllabus and course materials on the topic of developmental psychology, facilitated class instruction (lecture, active learning assignments).
    - Students evaluated on class discussion, exams (multiple choice, short answer, essay), a semester long paper assignment, and presentations.
- PSYC 1001: General Psychology (4 credits)
  - Spring 2014 (22 students), average teaching evaluation score: 4.5 (scale 1 to 5, where 1 indicates low quality teaching and 5 indicates high quality teaching)
    - Developed syllabus and course materials on into to contemporary scientific psychology, facilitated class instruction (lecture, active learning assignments).
    - Students evaluated on in-class assignments, participation, unit quizzes, and lab reports.

Department of Family Social Science, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN
2011-2011

Undergraduate courses taught:

- FSoS 4150: Sibling Relationships (1 credit)
  - Summer 2011 (23 students), average teaching evaluation score: 5.3 (scale 1 to 6, where 1 indicates low quality teaching and 6 indicates high quality teaching)
    - Developed and taught intensive 2-day course covering major themes relevant to understanding sibling relationship dynamics throughout the life-course. A variety of topics covered, e.g., mental health, cultural variations, siblings of individuals with disabilities, genetics, divorce, substance use.
    - Students evaluated on class discussion, giving and evaluating group presentations, completing a take-home, essay-based exam.

ACADEMIC HONORS & AWARDS

- Accepted to participate in the competitive Early Career Reward (ECR) program 2017
for the Center of Scientific Review (CSR) at the National Institutes of Health
